

Notre Dame de Sion
Australia Region

The Biblical Prophets from Jewish and Christian Perspectives.

An online webinar of interest to teachers, pastoral associates, parish leaders and all lovers of the Word.

The session will provide a general introduction to the Biblical Prophets. It will include an overview of the genre of prophetic writings and the role of the prophet in Biblical texts. It will explore some of the links and differences between Jewish and Christian interpretations and placement in the Catholic canon of scripture.

Date: Thursday 25 May 2023

Time: 4:30pm - 5:30pm via zoom (essential to login at 4:15pm)

Hosted by: Jewish-Christian Relations Team, Sisters of Our Lady of Sion, Australia

Presented by: Dr Natalie F. Mylonas

FHEA, Sessional Academic, Biblical Studies Faculty of Theology and Philosophy, Australian Catholic University

Dr Natalie F. Mylonas (FHEA) is a Postdoctoral Research Fellow at Macquarie University, the founder of Learn Ancient Hebrew Online Education, and a sessional academic at Australian Catholic University in the Faculty of Theology and Philosophy.

She is currently writing a volume entitled Jerusalem as Contested Space in Ezekiel: Exilic Encounters with Emotion (The Library of Hebrew Bible/Old Testament Studies), (Bloomsbury: forthcoming). Natalie's research interests include the history of emotions, ethnicity, gender and sexuality, biblical poetry, rabbinic Judaism, early Christianity, and world mythologies.

Bookings:

There is no cost for this event but bookings are essential.

Click link for TryBooking website The Biblical Prophets

OR

SCAN TO BOOK

NOTE: We have applied for approval by CECV for all Victorian Catholic Schools for accreditation hours but this has not yet been granted —status is PENDING APPROVAL.

SAVE THE DATE FOR A FURTHER SEMINAR ON PROPHETS: Sunday 23 July, 2:00pm – 4:00pm.

“How do Jews and Christians read the Prophets differently.” Rabbi Fred Morgan and Dr Merryl Blair.

Face-to-face mode