WHAT IS UDL?

It's the prospective design of instructional goals, assessments, methods, and materials customised and adjusted to meet the individual requirements of all learners in our classrooms.

Universal Design for Learning

Rather than an "add-on" or something extra, we are offering UDL...

- 1.as a means for identifying what you are already doing in your work that is great,
- 2.as a means of shifting mental models so that we are more easily and appropriately inclusive of all our students in all their learning and teaching - and ours.

OUR PLAN:

Commence a UDL dialogue with you in Semester Two this year.

AND YOU:

Meet with us online (at least initially) once a month for an hour.

There is no "one size
fits all" so our work would be collegial and interdependent - faithful to the ECSI
Catholic Dialogue
School type.

to do

Email us, expressing your interest in partnering with us for UDL. Please include:

1. your preferred meeting day and time;
2. the names and email addresses of colleagues in your school interested in being a part of this work.

Check out Youtube for your own interest and further information.

UDL Guidelines: paced learning for a long term shift in attitudes and practices for learning and teaching.
