Continuously develop the Library contribution to whole school learning provision, a quality library collection that is diverse and meets the needs of 21C learners, and promote independent thought and a love of reading. Thus achieve:

- An innovative and enthusiastic approach to libraries, reading and information seeking
- Well documented, concise and thorough library Policies and Procedures in accordance with A Manual for Developing Policies and Procedures In Australian School Library Resource Centres (Australian Library and Information Association and Victorian Catholic Teacher Librarians)
- Proactivity in responding to users' changing needs
- Collaboration between Library and teaching staff to identify, evaluate and select appropriate resources to complement units of study within specific subject areas
- Development and implementation of strategies, programs, events and activities to foster and support reading and strong literacy across the curriculum
- Use of a variety of selection tools to identify current trends in resources and literature
- An ongoing commitment to professional learning

*Bring your Network Folder/Materials and resources such as the ALIA Policy and Procedures manual – we can share what we are up to with the Library documentation.

AGENDA

8.45am Gather, cuppa and welcome.

9.00am Zines – What are they? How can we use them with our students? Let's make some this morning....
Unlock your creativity by learning how to create an 8-page folded zine about your loves, loathes and other heartfelt opinions. Explore the zine collection of seasoned zine-makers Helen and Alex. Find your own unique zine style by playing with different techniques that are a staple of zine-making! Learn all from two creatives visiting from Melbourne.

Definition

A zine (pronounced ZEEN) is short for "fanzine" and is usually a small-batch, independently published work that circulates less than 1,000 copies. Anyone can be a zinester (aka "someone who creates a zine"), and most people make zines for the love of creating rather than for seeking a profit. In general, a zine is a pamphlet-like publication that can include text, images, artwork, found objects, or any other creative material that helps to express the author's message.

Take home some fresh zines to share with your friends! All materials supplied.

11.00am Morning Tea – including time to wander around the Warrnambool Library

- 11.30am      Library Slam – half an hour to discuss all things Library – what lunchtime programs you are offering in the Library, what you need help with, something brilliant you have tried and has worked really well, Library documentation questions, National Simultaneous Story Time – anything to do with Library. Bring along something to share or some questions. It's our chance to chat to other Library professionals about what matters to us as Library people.
- 12.00 noon      Schools Catalogue Information Service (SCIS)
Guest Presenter: Renate Beilharz
Part 1: Learn all there is to know about cataloguing – ask the questions about when you can't find an item on SCIS – what is SCIS if you don't already know, how can they be of a help in my school Library?
Bring along some items you might have had trouble cataloguing.
No questions are too simple or can't be asked.
Any other book/item processing questions? <https://www.scisdata.com/>

- 1.30pm      Lunch – including time to view the Warrnambool Library and look at CBCA Shortlisted books
- 2.00pm      Part 2: Schools Catalogue Information Service (SCIS)
- 3.30pm      Conclusion
